

An Invitation You Should Accept

On Monday, August 5, 2013, Jeff Siegel, owner/operator of Active Captain, www.activecaptain.com, will speak at the Palmyra Village Board Meeting at 7:00 PM, in the Palmyra Village Hall, 144 East Main Street. You should be part of his audience.

Here's why. Active Captain is an interactive website with information about ports all over the world. After being stalled in the Waterford area because of damaged canal locks, Jeff is now on a personal tour of the Erie Canal with stops planned in canal communities across the state, including all the villages in Wayne County. He will be looking at port facilities in each but he would like, also, to meet with folks in these communities because we can supply information to Active Captain about 'A&A' (Activities & Attractions) - events, sites, 'reasons-to-stop and linger' easily accessible from the canal, which only local people would have. The presence of public transit or site provided transportation are also on the list. In addition, He will provide ideas and suggestions about how to attract more boaters to the western end of the canal.

Who benefits? Everyone - boaters, restaurateurs, retail shop owners, and not-for-profit sponsors of events. Active Captain benefits, of course, as well, because the added information makes the website an even better resource which, in turn, makes it an even more attractive place to advertise. Did I mention that there is no cost to list events, etc on AC? It costs nothing to list your events. It is FREE, requiring only the time and effort to supply information.

Come join us. It will be a worthwhile use of your time.

This event is sponsored by the Village of Palmyra.
