

INFORMATIONAL MEETING FOR RESIDENTS OF MAPLE-MEADOW SEWER PROPOSAL AND REGULAR MEETING OF THE TOWN BOARD

PALMYRA TOWN HALL
FEBRUARY 12, 2009

At 7:30 p.m., Supervisor Lyon welcomed those who came to the informational meeting about a Sewer Proposal in the Maple Avenue/ Meadow Drive area. He introduced David Doyle and Martin Mroczak, both from MRB Engineering Group, who had been hired to prepare a map and plan for installing sewers in this area of 152 homes. The Supervisor asked those present to listen to the Engineer's complete presentation before asking questions or making comments.

Dave Doyle stressed to the group that MRB Group was asked to work on a "preliminary study" to see how feasible municipal sewer service would be for the area. He added that the purpose of the informational meeting was not to present a proposed project or district, but to have affected residents tell the Town Board whether or not to pursue such a project. He was here tonight to present information, not a project.

INFORMATIONAL
MEETING

Doyle showed an aerial view of the area between the railroad tracks and Quaker Road along Maple Avenue and its adjoining streets. The "map" showed where sewer lines could go, tying into the existing sewer main on Division Street. The map was also configured in three different sections. Each was set up to make the proposal flexible to meet sewer service needs of each section. One, two or all three sections could be included in a future project, depending on who wants the service.

Doyle also provided a handout outlining expected costs of sewer service to each area. With funding from Rural Development, he explained, based on "estimated income of area residents," an annual cost would range from $730 to $920 a year for a family of four. This would include normal sewer use charges, as well as an estimated annual amount to pay down the bond used for sewer line installation costs. While there might be other sources of grants to pursue, these were not included in the handout, and no assumptions were made that any more grant money could be found.

When his presentation ended, hands shot up from several in attendance. Several explained they were not in favor of sewer service because it is too expensive, now that they see the numbers. Other reasons for opposition were that many are retired and on fixed incomes, and their septic systems are working fine, so they have no need of this service. Others explained that they are in favor of sewer service because their homes are situated in places where their septic systems are backing up and they cannot replace them and be in compliance with current codes, so municipal sewer service is their only option.

Other questions included what MRB's charge to the Town was for this preliminary study, map and plan. Dave Doyle said it was $7500. Also asked was about the results of the last survey. Town Clerk Lynne Green said most people indicated they would be interested in pursuing municipal sewer service if it were "affordable." Dave Lyon said there is a map of the area with properties colored in, showing which properties were "yeses" and which were "nos". He invited those interested to stop in at the Town Clerk's office and look at the map.

MEETING

Dave Lyon called on all those who wished to speak. Each question was answered. The last question asked was, "What is the next step?" Dave Lyon said the Town will send affected residents a new survey, now that they had the costs and other details about sewer service to their homes. Responses to this survey will let the Town know who is still in favor of the project and where their properties are located--in case there is a cluster of homes that want it and could be set apart in a sewer project. He added that the Town would not spend more on engineering work until the new survey is tallied.

When there were no more questions or comments, Supervisor Lyon thanked everyone for coming and for their input. The informational meeting ended at 8:47 p.m.

After the meeting, people came up front to talk with Dave Lyon, Dave Doyle and Marty Mroczak, and to look over the map that had been prepared.

"We are against the sewer. Sounds good, but too expensive, and we can not afford it. Our pension isn't large enough for that large an expense. We would have to sell our house. Please don't force us into that. At our age we can not afford to make a loan."
